2. Why we process personal data

We process personal data for the following purposes:

- To respond to enquiries, prepare offers, conclude and perform contracts, and provide the requested B2B customer-acquisition, sales and advertising services. The legal basis is Article 6(1)(b) GDPR. We retain the data for the time needed to perform the contract and, where necessary, to establish, pursue or defend legal claims.
- To comply with legal obligations connected with our business, including accounting and tax record-keeping and other obligations that apply to the relevant service. The legal basis is Article 6(1)(c) GDPR. We retain the data for the period required by law.
- To establish, pursue or defend against claims. This is our legitimate interest under Article 6(1)(f) GDPR. We retain the data until the relevant claims become time-barred.
- To market and promote services offered by the Foundation, including services provided under the Expand to Europe name. This is based on our legitimate interest under Article 6(1)(f) GDPR, until you object or the marketing purpose ends. Where separate consent is required for a particular marketing channel, we will use that channel only after obtaining it.
- Where you have given consent, for the specific purpose described when consent was requested. The legal basis is Article 6(1)(a) GDPR. We retain the data until you withdraw your consent.

3. What information we process

Depending on your interaction with us, we may process your name, business email address, telephone number, company name and business details, information included in an enquiry or order, contract and service-delivery information, invoicing details, and correspondence with us. We may also receive information generated while providing the services you have requested.

Some information is necessary to respond to an enquiry, prepare an offer or perform a contract. If you do not provide it, we may be unable to take the requested steps or provide the service. Any information we identify as optional is not required to enter into a contract.

4. Who may receive the information

We may share personal data, where necessary, with:

- public authorities where disclosure is required by law;
- service providers processing data on our behalf under a data-processing agreement, such as IT, hosting, email, archiving and accounting providers, and authorised Foundation beneficiaries or representatives;
- independent controllers involved in providing support, such as legal advisers, postal or courier operators, and debt-recovery or receivables-purchasing entities where an invoice has not been paid.

5. Transfers outside the European Economic Area

We transfer personal data outside the European Economic Area only where necessary and with appropriate safeguards. These may include a European Commission adequacy decision or the European Commission's standard contractual clauses. We will provide information about an intended transfer when collecting the data, where required.

6. Profiling and automated decisions

We do not use your personal data for profiling or for decisions made solely by automated means that produce legal effects concerning you or similarly significantly affect you.

7. Your rights

Subject to the conditions set by the GDPR, you may:

- request access to your personal data and a copy of it;
- request correction of inaccurate or incomplete data;
- request erasure or restriction of processing;
- receive data you provided to us in a structured, commonly used, machine-readable format, or ask us to transmit it to another controller, where the legal conditions for portability are met;
- object to processing based on our legitimate interests;
- withdraw consent at any time where processing is based on consent. Withdrawal does not affect the lawfulness of processing carried out before it was withdrawn.

To exercise a right, contact rodo@twojstartup.pl or office@expandtoeurope.pl. You may also lodge a complaint with the President of the Personal Data Protection Office (Prezes Urzędu Ochrony Danych Osobowych, UODO) in Poland if you believe that your data has been processed unlawfully.

8. Contact

For service or website enquiries, contact office@expandtoeurope.pl or call +48 795 850 777. For data-protection questions, contact rodo@twojstartup.pl.
